County OKs chicken farm over objections

One manure shed is 10 feet from neighboring property

BY CLARA VAUGHN
Eastern Shore Post

A Savageville poultry farm is poised to resume operations, despite objections from over a dozen neighbors.

The Accomack County Board of Zoning Appeals in a 3-2 vote granted exceptions to the county's poultry ordinance that allow the six-house operation to resume raising chickens, pending owner Le Ung receiving required state agency permits and providing a suitable landscaping plan to the county.

Residents during the board's meeting Wednesday, Sept. 6 raised concerns ranging from the environmental impacts of runoff from the chicken houses to odor, noise, and airborne particles they generate.

But board members cited Accomack

Resort opened without required health permits

BY CLARA VAUGHN
Eastern Shore Post

A Chincoteague resort featuring floating bungalows is voluntarily closing for the season after it had been operating without required permits from the Virginia Department of Health.

BluFin Bungalows & Marina opened in late July but announced in a letter to the health department it would close by the end of this week, said Chincoteague's Town Manager Mike Tolbert.

The closure comes on the heels of complaints filed with the health department that alleged the business dumped untreated sewage in the water, but the claims were unsubstantiated, said Health Director for the Eastern Shore District Jon Richardson.

"We've investigated several times, as has DEQ (the Virginia Department of Environmental Quality), and that had not ever been corroborated," he said.

BluFin opened earlier this summer, showcasing its "Bungalow Boats" that offered a lodging experience on floating cabins outfitted with kitchens, bathrooms, and other amenities.

It is a project by Blue Water, a company that owns, manages, and develops campgrounds, hotels, marinas, and other attractions throughout the northeast and other areas.

Though rumors of raw sewage were unsubstantiated, the facility opened without required permits from the health department, Richardson said.

He added that "initially, the floating cabins were discharging shower and sink water into the water."

"As soon as we became aware of that, VDH and DEQ both reacted immediately, and they (BluFin) went ahead and fixed all that and replumbed all those cabins," Richardson said.

Tolbert said Chincoteague's town office received similar complaints about the bungalow business.

"We had some complaints of ... gray water, which is just from sinks and showers, which were founded and corrected. And then we had some complaints of raw sewage in the water, which were unfounded," he said.

Tolbert said the business has "still got some issues they are working through as far as paperwork."

"Everyone suggested that 'You need to close back up and get some issues squared away,' and they're doing that," he said.

BluFin representatives did not immediately respond to the Post's request for comment.

The property formerly was Capt. Bob's Marina.

NASA Wallops Flight Facility (WFF) Causeway Bridge Replacement Project Environmental Assessment September 2023

NASA announces the availability of the Draft Environmental Assessment (EA) for the Causeway Bridge Replacement Project. NASA proposes to replace the existing Causeway Bridge over Cat Creek that connects WFF's Mainland and Wallops Island in Accomack County, Virginia.

The purpose of the Proposed Action is to support NASA's mission by providing safe, efficient, and reliable transportation while improving the sustainability of operations by incorporating climate change resilience into the new bridge design.

The project is needed because the current bridge is approaching the end of its service life and showing accelerated signs of deterioration. The Causeway Bridge provides the only vehicular access to and from Wallops Island.

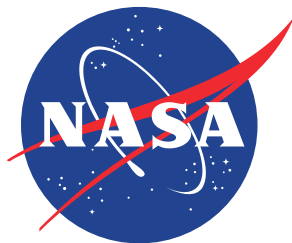

NASA proposes to construct a new Causeway Bridge on a new alignment parallel to the existing Causeway Bridge and to demolish the existing bridge within 5 years after the new bridge is opened. The Draft EA evaluates the environmental consequences of the Proposed Action and No Action Alternative.

The Draft EA is available for public review at the:
Chincoteague Island Library, Chincoteague, VA
Eastern Shore Public Library, Accomac, VA
WFF Visitor Center, Rt. 175, VA

Additionally, NASA is hosting a public meeting from 4 to 6 pm on September 20, 2023 at the WFF Visitor Center.

NASA will consider all comments in preparing the Final EA. Comments on the Draft EA are requested by October 11, 2023. Comments should be addressed to:

Substitute teacher with pot and gun in car makes plea

BY NANCY DRURY DUNCAN
Eastern Shore Post

A Cape Charles woman who had marijuana and a firearm in her car while working as a substitute teacher at Northampton High School has pleaded guilty.

KJhalia Dya Brooks, 24, was charged with possession of marijuana on school property and felony possession of a firearm on school property. She was arrested after a drug sweep at the Eastville school.

Police spotted what they suspected was marijuana visible inside her car, said Commonwealth’s Attorney Jack Thornton.

He said they raised one windshield wiper as a signal that the car needed to be investigated by a drug-sniffing K-9.

When the dog found the scent of the marijuana, police notified the woman, who came out to her car and opened it for the officers.

A search of the vehicle revealed a gun in the glove compartment, Thornton said.

In an agreement with the commonwealth, Brooks pleaded guilty to misdemeanor possession of a concealed weapon and possession of marijuana on school property, also a misdemeanor.

“The school district was very supportive of her,” said Thornton.

He said Brooks bought the firearm legally and was working to get a concealed weapon permit.

According to the terms of the agreement, Brooks was fined $250 and ordered to do 50 hours of community service on the marijuana charge.

On the concealed weapon charge, she was sentenced to 32 days with 30 days suspended, ordered to pay a $250 fine and to complete community service.

Thornton said the firearm was forfeited to the state.

Man wanted after police chase caught in New Jersey

STAFF REPORT

The man police say barged into Cape Charles on Tuesday, Aug. 29, in a stolen car, struck a tree in the town park, and ducked police before stealing another car and hightailing out of town has been caught by authorities in New Jersey.

Jafeir A. Betrand faces nine felony charges with more pending, the Cape Charles Police Department posted Friday, Sept. 1. The police did not release his age or town of residence.

"The past several days we have been working nonstop on this case," the department posted on its Facebook page.

The police said other suspects were "waiting to be apprehended," in connection with the case. Neither the names of those under investigation, nor the potential charges were revealed in the Facebook post.

Betrand was arrested by the U.S. Marshals Service in Camden, N.J., Cape Charles police said.

Town Mayor Adam Charney lauded the Cape Charles police in a Facebook post Friday.

"I am pleased to share that the suspect is facing numerous charges and will be extradited back to Virginia to face justice," he wrote.

"While the case remains ongoing, it's comforting to know our police force is doing its utmost to safeguard our community."

Betrand allegedly raced through Eastville, prompting a high-speed chase that ventured into Cape Charles.

Cape Charles police pursued the SUV as it entered town and continued west on Mason Avenue — the town's main commercial thoroughfare.

The vehicle turned right on Peach Street and charged into Central Park at its south end.

A Cape Charles police officer used his vehicle to force the SUV into a tree in the park, ending the pursuit.

The police officer, the driver of the SUV, and the SUV's three passengers were uninjured.

"This officer's quick reaction very likely saved lives," stated a Town of Cape Charles press release.

Immediately following the crash, the driver jumped out of the vehicle and dashed away.

A search of the Cape Charles historic district ensued and lasted until the early morning of Wednesday, Aug. 30.

SERVING VIRGINIA'S EASTERN SHORE

THE PAPER'S POSITION

September is a great month for Eastern Shore events

We're hoping to see a slight cooling in temperatures and a break in the humidity, because the Eastern Shore's September schedule is packed with delightful events. It is time for fall weather to go with our great fall activities.

In recent years, there has been absolutely no excuse to be bored on the Eastern Shore. And so far in 2023, as society emerged from COVID-19 shutdowns (even as COVID-19 is still with us), there have been so many fantastic ways and reasons to gather.

We have a bumper crop of good times this month — so many benefits, whole-town events, and concerts. Some are time-honored Eastern Shore celebrations, like the Riverside Shore Memorial Auxiliary Hospital Ball.

Some are more recent additions to our social calendar, like the Chamber Fest, which will be held this weekend and features the groups Sawyer Brown and Jefferson Starship.

Billed as the Eastern Shore's top tailgating, music, and networking event, the Eastern Shore of Virginia Chamber of Commerce-sponsored fete is highly anticipated.

The Hospital Ball, the Chamber Fest, and so many other events are successful because of the many volunteers who give willingly of their time and talents to make them a success.

Volunteerism is the glue that holds together the Eastern Shore and it will be on full display in September.

So don't sit idly by.

From Saxis to Chincoteague to Cape Charles, and seemingly everywhere between, there were be entertaining gatherings this weekend and this month for everyone to enjoy.

And just maybe the temperature will cool and the humidity will give us a reprieve.

The goals for Northampton schools this year are going to engage not just our students, but also parents and staff, to create an all-encompassing learning environment.

In this, NCPS hopes to provide more opportunities for parent development in the form of new affiliations, such as the recent partnership with the Cook Institute for Human Connection and its service, Parent Guidance.

NCPS also hopes to continue in extracurricular activities, with the volleyball team making its debut at home on Sept. 11 in the Northampton High gymnasium and the varsity football team on Sept. 8 at Hamilton Field.

The NHS marching band also hosted its preview show and the cross-country teams made their debut on the first day of school.

Across our schools, this semester is always going to have an extracurricular activity to enjoy.

A brief refresher course on properly displaying the U.S. flag

Repeat after me: When the U.S. flag is displayed vertically, the Union — the blue field with the 50 stars — always is on the observer's top left.

I'll say it with you: When the U.S. flag is displayed vertically, the Union always is on the observer's top left.

That's not a rumor. It's part of the U.S. Flag Code, a fascinating online advisory document.

Some folks watch television at night. And there are some, like me, who spend evenings noodling through the U.S. Flag Code.

There are no penalties for mistakes in flag etiquette except to appear unknowing or inattentive.

It is a little like incorrectly placing the knife and spoon on the left side of the dinner plate.

But with the U.S. flag, we are discussing a world-

When hanging vertically, the U.S. flag should be flown with the blue Union on the left.

The problem is that, in the act of showing their American pride, they are unwittingly revealing they don't know how to do it correctly.

Most of us know that a U.S. flag should never wide symbol of liberty and freedom that brave men and women have given their lives to defend.

A correctly arranged table setting doesn't quite have the same symbolism.

I bring up the U.S. flag because I recently have observed too many instances on the Eastern Shore of Old Glory displayed in violation of the flag code.

I don't think the U.S. flag is being purposely abused, understand.

Some people violating the flag code are quite prideful and demonstrative about honoring our nation.

But it also should not touch anything beneath it — if the bottom of your flag is touching the hand-rail on your front step, that's a problem.

Freedom is our national cornerstone, and your flag should be free of such encumbrances. It should fly freely. That's part of the symbolism.

I was surprised to read the code prohibits the flag being used for advertising purposes. The flag code also states the flag should never be used as clothing, bedding, or draperies.

It should never be printed on anything designed to be discarded after temporary use — like paper napkins.

Do you have a ripped or frayed flag? Take it down and don't display it, the flag code advises.

Further, U.S. flags should only fly from dawn to dusk, and never at night unless they are properly illuminated.

There are many other U.S. flag rules. I just listed some of the most common public infractions.

So fly your flag freely. But be couth to the regulations. Some folks aren't, unfortunately.

Schools

Community engagement has always been a core goal for the Northampton school district. This year will be no different. There will always be plenty of events to be found throughout the school year, from art shows and fundraisers to classes for parental development and assemblies on important topics in our schools, such as chronic absenteeism.

Northampton's mission for the 2023-2024 school year is to "Navigate the Future Together."

Paul Bojko

Mr. Paul Bojko, 86, died Aug. 29, 2023, on the Eastern Shore of Virginia. Paul was born July 31, 1937, in Kremenchuk, Ukraine, to the late Gregor Bojko and the late Charytyna Zelynska Bojko.

In a 2016 letter, Paul recounts his early years. "When I was about six years old, German soldiers came to our family farm, loaded [us] into a truck. We were taken to Auschwitz. When my parents were healthy enough, we were moved by boxcars to a labor camp in Nuremberg. I remember always being hungry, cold, and so afraid. When the war ended, my father was dead. My mother became hospitalized. My brother and I were placed in a children's home in Bad Aibling, Germany, where we had good care. In 1951, my brother and I were sent to the United

Living with foster families in Baltimore County, Md., Paul met Diana Dement. They married in 1959 and created a joyful life and family together with three sons and many pets. They settled in Parkton, Md., until moving to Easton, Md., in 1976 and Trappe, Md., in 1985.

Mr. Bojko

After serving in the military, Paul worked at Black & Decker for 40 years. Caring and resourceful, Paul could build and fix things and never hesitated to lend a hand to a neighbor. Though a quiet person, he could often be heard in lively "conversations" with pets and wildlife.

Paul took his family on memorable road trips, including to Chincoteague Island, where Paul and Diana moved in 2018. They relished their time together feeding birds, exploring nature trails, and watching polka dance on TV with a bowl of ice cream. Diana passed away in 2020.

Paul's 2016 letter continued, "My life here has been good. I am thankful for the freedom this country has given me. If some had lived the life I did as a child of war, they might look at things differently."

In a letter replying to Paul, President Obama said, "Stories like yours ... underscore that we must continue to build a world where all people can live together in peace." Paul shared his story in a 2017 documentary video for the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum.

Paul is survived by his sons, Greg Bojko, of Chincoteague Island, Richard Bojko, of Tacoma, Wash., and Scott Bojko, of Memphis, Tenn.; and brother, Victor Bojko, of Mt. Gretna, Pa.

Heather Dise

Mrs. Heather Wheatley Dise — beloved daughter, wife, mother, sister, grandmother, aunt, and friend — went home to rest with her Heavenly Father on Thursday, Aug. 31, 2023, at the age of 43.

Born in Crisfield, Md., on Nov. 26, 1979, Heather was raised on Tangier Island, the place she called home and the community she cherished. Heather's larger-than-life personality was evident from the time she could talk, and there was never a dull moment in her presence. She always dressed to impress and never left the house without wearing makeup, perfectly complimenting her confident and fearless nature.

Over the years, Heather worked tirelessly mowing lawns on the island, and she took pride in her work. If you asked Heather what her greatest joy was, she'd quickly boast about her amazing family and how grateful she was for each and every one of them, just as each and every one of them were grateful for her. She will be missed, celebrated, and loved ... until they meet again.

Talk with your health care provider about when to begin screening.

Discuss the risks and benefits of prostate cancer screening and determine when screening is right for you.

- Age 50 for men at average risk.
- Age 45 for men at high risk—this includes African Americans and men with a first-degree relative (father, son, brother) diagnosed with prostate cancer before age 65.
- Age 40 for men at even higher risk—this includes men with more than one first-degree relative (father, son, brother) diagnosed with prostate cancer before age 65.

Prostate cancer screening is a two-step process.

The first step is a prostate specific antigen (PSA) blood test which measures a protein produced by cells of the prostate. The second step is a digital rectal exam performed by your health care provider to help identify changes in the size or texture of your prostate.

One in eight men will develop prostate cancer in his lifetime, with African American men being at higher risk.

Screenings help find cancer early, when you have no signs or symptoms and it is easier to treat.

Constitution Week set

The United States Constitution stands as a testament to the tenacity of Americans throughout history to maintain their liberties and freedoms and to ensure those inalienable rights to every American.

The tradition of celebrating the Constitution was started by the Daughters of the American Revolution. In 1955, DAR petitioned Congress to set aside Sept. 17 to 23 annually to be dedicated for the observance of Constitution Week. The resolution was later adopted by the U.S. Congress and signed into public law on Aug. 2, 1956, by President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The aims of the celebration are to:

- Emphasize citizens' responsibilities for protecting and defending the Constitution.

- Inform people that the Constitution is the basis for America's great heritage and the foundation for our way of life.

- Encourage the study of the historical events which led to the framing of the Constitution in September 1787.

Bells Across America is an annual celebration of the signing of the U.S. Constitution. Participants gather to ring bells, much as the church bells of Philadelphia rang out when the U.S. Constitution was first signed at 4 p.m. on September 17, 1787.

The Northampton County Chapter is encouraging local churches to ring bells on Sept. 17 for 1 minute at 4 p.m. EDT to herald the beginning of this commemorative week.

Exmore woman denied bail in alleged strangulation

BY NANCY DRURY DUNCAN
Eastern Shore Post

An Exmore woman charged with strangulation, bodily injury, and robbery was denied bail in an appeal to Accomack Circuit Court.

Roxanne Means, 39, was at the Chincoteague Volunteer Fireman’s Carnival with her son and boyfriend.

Her boyfriend left to get gas and the woman and her son were walking toward the Chincoteague Channel drawbridge, said Assistant Commonwealth’s Attorney William Fox.

They went into the parking lot of a nearby motel and began arguing loudly. The owner of the motel heard the commotion and went outside, said Fox.

The owner of the motel, a 78-year-old woman, shone a flashlight on the pair and asked them leave.

Rather than leaving, Means grabbed the flashlight and began hitting the woman, police allege.

“She knocked her to the ground and continued hitting her,” Fox said.

The woman’s son came out of the motel and tried to intervene. Means attacked him, choking him until he passed out briefly. He soon came to and called police.

Means’ boyfriend drove up and she jumped into his vehicle.

Fox commented that Means’ attack on the two people took place in front of children.

Judge W. Revell Lewis denied bail, saying, “You were on the property of the motor inn in an encounter with someone else.

“You took the flashlight from her and attacked her. The court finds that you would be a danger to the public.”

She was remanded back to jail.

Parksley man charged in molestation pleads guilty

A Parksley man charged with charged molesting a 6-year-old girl entered into a plea agreement with the commonwealth.

The defendant, Jairon Fredy Morales, 22, was charged with sodomy and aggravated sexual battery.

On April 16, sheriff’s department investigators responded to a call from a Parksley address.

When they arrived, they were told a 6-year-old girl reported an incident that occurred a few days earlier while she was visiting the house of a man she called her uncle.

The child was taken to Children’s Hospital of the King’s Daughters, where a forensics interview was conducted.

She told the interviewer that her uncle and his baby were the only others in the house while she was there.

She said she went into the bedroom to play with the baby, who was on the bed. Then, she said, her uncle molested her.

Assistant Commonwealth’s Attorney William Fox said he entered into the agreement with Morales with the approval of the girl’s family.

Judge W. Revell Lewis III accepted the agreement and ordered that a presentence investigation and a psycho-sexual evaluation of the defendant be prepared. Morales is set to be sentenced on Nov. 30. Fox said he will be deported after completing his sentence.

Speckled trout fishing heats up as waters cool

Cobia have begun to form large schools in the lower bay in preparation for their pending southerly migration. The tightly bunched fish become competitive when it comes to feeding, resulting in multiple hook-ups by anglers sight casting to fish on the surface. Speckled trout and puppy drum catches corresponded with the recent cooler evenings, presenting a glimpse of the upcoming action that is anticipated as the water temperature begins to cool.

Upper Shore

Captain Matt Abell, at the Sea Hawk Sports Center, reported that large red drum continue to be caught from the Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel all the way up to Marker 72, north of the Maryland/Virginia state line.

Cut bait, consisting of pieces of spot, whiting, or croaker fished on 8/0 Octopus circle hooks have all been successful presentations. The best time for hook-ups occurs in the late afternoon/early evening in 15- to 30-foot depths, especially with a running tide.

Sharks, large rays, and the occasional cobia have been bycatches in the red drum fishery. Speckled trout and puppy drum have begun to hit 4-inch paddletails in the shallows; the color "Momma's Chicken" was cited as an early season productive model.

The seaside action off the upper Shore was disrupted during the latter part of last week into the early part of the weekend as a result of offshore storm systems. Once the wave action began to subside and the water began to clear, the flounder bite resumed, with fish taking baits of minnows, silversides, squid strips, and fresh fish fillet strips, paired with Berkley Gulp.

around the inlet during the flood tide. Berkley Gulp, combined with live minnows or silversides, remained the preferred baits.

Small croakers are being caught by anglers fishing small pieces of bloodworm or Fish Bites. Captain Paul added that he had received reports of puppy drum and speckled trout catches by anglers casting artificials.

The ocean wrecks are still producing keeper-sized flounder and black sea bass, with small to medium-sized dolphin (mahi mahi) hanging out on the surface above the wrecks.

Offshore vessels fishing the blue water have been getting the occasional tuna bite, along with a few billfish releases. Anglers deep dropping are catching tilefish for their efforts.

Lower Shore

Jeb Brady, at Bailey's Bait & Tackle, reports that cobia have schooled up in preparation for their southerly migration. Anglers sight casting into the schools have reported double digit hook-ups a day while the fish pass between Cape Charles and Kiptopeke. Only one more week of cobia fishing remains, as the season closes on Sept. 15.

Sheepshead catches continue to come from around the pilings of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel. Most have been caught on cut crab baits.

Jeb said that big red drum action has been good in the evenings from Nassawadox to the bridge-tunnel.

Flounder action was described as "decent" along the Ditch and the Fisherman Island Bridge. Catches from the Cape Charles and Kiptopeke piers have consisted primarily of ribbonfish and small spot.

Dan Bell, at Oceans East — Eastern Shore, told me that the cobia fishing has "really come alive" in the last few days with good numbers of fish being caught on the surface.

He added that the sheepshead fishery has been excellent, with citation-sized fish being caught from the bridge-tunnel up to the concrete ships off Kiptopeke.

Big red drum are still being caught on peeler crab baits from the bridge-tunnel up to the waters around buoy 36A.

Chincoteague gridgers down Fuqua on road

BY TED SHOCKLEY
Eastern Shore Post

The Chincoteague High School football team lost a nailbiter in the first game of the season.

The Ponies left no doubt in their second game.

Traveling to Farmville, Chincoteague trounced Fuqua School, 61-10, to even its record to 1-1 on the season.

John Holloway rushed six times for 117 yards and three touchdowns for the Ponies.

Jordan Harper passed for 145 yards and three touchdowns and his brother, Jake Harper, had 115 yards receiving and three touchdowns.

Also getting in on the scoring for the Ponies were Kent Reed, who had a touchdown pass, and Brayden Baker, who had a touchdown reception.

Defensive standouts for the Ponies were Garrett Daisey, who had 10 tackles and two forced fumbles, and Elliott Garland, who had nine tackles and an interception.

Chincoteague traveled to undefeated Southampton Academy on Thursday, Sept. 7. The game ended too late to be included in this week's edition.

Arcadia footballers off to a hot start

BY MARK MORING
Eastern Shore Post

Bradley Hall has had enough of losing.

The senior quarterback and cornerback for Arcadia High School's football team tasted victory just twice in the last two years. The Firebirds went 2-8 last year and 0-10 the year before.

"This is my senior year, and I want to go out with a bang," Hall said. "I want to be remembered for winning, not losing."

So far, so good. The Firebirds have won their first two games, matching their victory total for the last two seasons combined.

They beat Windsor, 53-36, in Week 1 and Charles City, 49-6, in Week 2. They're averaging a whopping 51 points per game, including 371 yards rushing.

Hall has been a big part of that. He had 313 yards total offense and accounted for four touchdowns (two pass, two rush) against Windsor, and added 104 yards rushing and a score against Charles City. Hall is the fourth leading rusher in the state, with 140 yards per game.

Senior fullback Rico Bugg has also been a huge part of Arcadia's offensive output.

He's the state's seventh-leading rusher at 126.5 yards per game, and he ranks third in the state in scoring with 36 points. He's also a receiving threat; he caught three passes for 103 yards and two scores against Charles City.

"The offense is rolling right now," said head coach Alan Hall (Bradley's father). "The line is working together well, and we've got one of the biggest and fastest backfields around."

When asked about the dramatic turnaround from last year — at least through two games — Hall attributed it to hard work and a renewed commitment in the offseason.

"We started early and got everyone in the gym back in March," he said. "We got everybody familiar with each other, and they're buying into it. That's the biggest part."

Coach Hall has lofty aspirations for the rest of the season.

"We want to win the district and get into the playoffs," he said. "The best record we've ever had here was 9-1, and we're shooting for that." That one-loss season came all the way back in 1987.

Arcadia hosts Kent County, Md., Friday, Sept. 8, at 6 p.m. The Trojans (0-1) lost to Bohemia Manor, 42-6, in their opener.

Broadwater falls to Christchurch

BY KINSEY RAYFIELD
Special to the Eastern Shore Post

The Broadwater Vikings hosted Christchurch School on Saturday, Sept. 2, but lost, 50-12.

Broadwater got its offense started with a handoff from quarterback Logan Hickman to Steven Ye for a 5-yard touchdown run. The Vikings ended the first quarter tied, 6-6.

Later, freshman Olsen Pruitt recovered a fumbled ball by Christchurch and ran it 10 yards in for the touchdown. Hickman went 12 for 24, passing for 109 yards with two interceptions.

Sophomore Jacob Seltzer led the Vikings with eight carries for 38 yards. Ye had five carries for 20 yards and a touchdown. Rufus Abbott had seven receptions for 98 yards. Broadwater defensive stars of the day were Luke Duer, Steven Ye, John Lewis, Caleb McIntyre, Rufus Abbott, Luke Young, and Quinn Ames.

Blake shines as Nandua football splits first two games

BY MARK MORING
Eastern Shore Post

Nandua High School's Nazere Blake is picking up right where he left off last football season. The 2022 Eastern Shore District Player of the Year on both offense and defense was stellar on both sides of the ball in the Warriors' first two games this season.

Blake, just a sophomore, had 151 yards total offense in a 32-17 victory over Rappahannock two weeks ago. He added two touchdowns and 16 tackles in a heartbreaking 27-26 loss to visiting Bruton last week. The Warriors were driving for the go-ahead points against the Panthers but ran out of time.

Despite nearly upsetting unbeaten Bruton, Blake doesn't think the team played up to its potential.

"We made a lot of mistakes," he said. "We weren't disciplined. And the whole week in practice, we were sluggish. We need to pick it up."

"This was a game we definitely could have won," added junior lineman Zach Smith. "We were sloppy, and we need to work on some things. As a leader, I need to get my team rolling."

Bruton blew out to a 19-6 lead in the first half, with Nandua's touchdown coming on sophomore Elijah Parker's electrifying 83-yard kickoff return. The Warriors cut it to 19-12 just before the half on senior quarterback Isaac Stodghill's 7-yard scoring pass to Parker.

Nandua's defense played better in the second half but made costly errors — offsides penalties and burning timeouts when they weren't properly aligned. When the Panthers scored early in the fourth quarter to go up 25-12, they missed the PAT kick, but Nandua was called offsides. With the ball now at the two, Bruton went for two and converted, making it 27-12.

In the fourth, Blake ran for two touchdowns, and the Warriors added a 2-point conversion to cut it to 27-26. They got the ball back on their own 20 with 19 seconds left. But with 80 yards to go and not enough time, it just wasn't meant to be.

"Too many mistakes," said Nandua coach Dennis McCall. "Those offsides penalties really hurt us. But the players never quit, and we had good balance on offense. The effort was really there."

Nandua (1-1) visits Snow Hill (1-0) Friday at 5:45 p.m.

NORTHAMPTON

Curtain opens on new choir, theater instructor

BY STEFANIE JACKSON
Eastern Shore Post

Northampton County Public Schools' new choir and theater instructor brings to the Eastern Shore a high level of achievement in the study, performance, and teaching of music, as well as a connection to a resident who is a nationally recognized opera singer.

"I'm truly, truly excited about what's about to happen," said Caroline Gibson in a Sept. 5 interview. "I met the students today ... and they're just wonderful young people."

Gibson, of Custis Tomb, near Cape Charles, holds a doctorate degree in musical arts from the University of Iowa School of Music.

She was the director of choral activities at the former Delaware State College, now Delaware State University.

Gibson also was a professor of voice and director of an opera and musical theater workshop at Kentucky State University.

Most recently, she taught piano and voice to students of all ages at the International School of Music in Potomac, Md.

Through performances in concerts and other musical productions, she met Alvy Powell Jr., an opera singer who has performed for U.S. presidents and foreign dignitaries. He has also sung in the U.S. Army Chorus.

Powell, a native of Cheriton and Northampton High School alumnus, and Gibson, from the Washington, D.C. area, have known each other for 40 years. They were married last year and recently celebrated their first anniversary.

Gibson had delayed relocating to the Eastern Shore until she could secure work here. She just started her first year teaching in Northampton public schools.

Gibson's position was developed to meet the growing demand by Northampton students for music and theater classes.

This is the first time in several years that theater electives have been offered by the school division.

Gibson joins Brad Ford, who has taught in the Northampton high and middle school music department for the last five years.

With Gibson handling choir and theater, Ford can concentrate on teaching band in the classroom and coaching the marching band after school.

Gibson will teach courses for all levels of musical skill.

Her goal is to present a musical theater production in the spring, including students from all of her classes.

She has never taught in a public school before, but her mother taught in public elementary schools in Washington, D.C., for 35 years, and Gibson is looking forward to working with her new students.

She said, "I just can't wait to form relationships with all of them and put them onstage."

Town gets closer to sewer deal

BY CLARA VAUGHN

Eastern Shore Post

Chincoteague is inching closer to a deal to transfer Sunset Bay's sewage treatment facility to the Hampton Roads Sanitation District, which plans to own and operate the plants.

The town is working to fill in another piece of the multi-year puzzle to make that transfer possible with the Sunset Bay Homeowners Association.

Chincoteague acquired the Sunset Bay sewage treatment plants in December 2022, but the HOA still holds the covenants and restrictions that go along with the land, Town Manager Mike Tolbert told the Chincoteague Town Council during its meeting Wednesday, Sept. 6.

"The only way HRSD is able, legally, to take the land from us when we give it to them ... is free and clear of all covenants and restrictions," he said.

To do that, the town council is considering a resolution to take the property by eminent domain in cooperation with the HOA.

Eminent domain is the right of the government to take private property and convert it to a public use. Condemnation is the process by which a government agency can use this power.

The process requires the government to pay landowners fair compensation for their land.

To take over the Sunset Bay plants, HRSD also needs easements allowing the group to service outfalls and access pump stations, which the condemnation would also provide, Tolbert said.

"They also, in order to get ingress and egress to the plants successfully, would like to have the lot that is on Main Street in front of the Coast Guard's tennis courts," he said.

Sunset Bay HOA uses the property for boat trailer parking, he said.

Chincoteague negotiated a price of $150,000 for the property with the HOA, Tolbert said.

Ronald Jordan from the HOA spoke during Wednesday's meeting and said the HOA board is "strongly supportive" of the project.

In addition to Sunset Bay's condominiums, five or six businesses are already connected to the sewage treatment facility, Tolbert said.

The two plants can treat around 39,000 gallons of wastewater per day, but permits allow an additional capacity of 37,000 gallons at the site, he said, meaning more businesses can eventually connect to the sewage treatment system.

"That's a very valuable commodity," Tolbert said.

"The downtown area is very limited because a lot of the properties are built really close to the property line," he said. "They really don't have any land area to develop sewage" treatment facilities.

"This will give them a viable option to expand their business and give us a way to have some other types of businesses that we don't already have downtown," Tolbert said.

Chincoteague was part of a 2020

Circuit Court decision to include all of Accomack County in an extension of Hampton Roads Sanitation District's service area. HRSD is constructing a system of sewer pipes approximately 121,000 feet long south of the island, between Accomack and Nassawadox.

"We want their help and their expertise with eliminating some of our problem," said Mayor Arthur Leonard.

The Chincoteague Town Council will hold a public hearing on the proposed condemnation during a work session on Thursday, Sept. 21, at 6 p.m. at 6150 Community Drive.

A representative from HRSD is invited to the meeting to answer questions from the public, Tolbert said.

Bakery on Mason, popular town staple, closes down

BY TED SHOCKLEY
Eastern Shore Post

It was a remarkable sight: A long line of people formed during the morning hours at a Cape Charles business, waiting to have a turn at the counter.

It was a scene that repeated itself frequently at The Bakery on Mason, which specialized in bread, pastries, and sandwiches.

It had a dedicated following of enthusiastic customers. And owner Louise Orlando developed friendships with most of them.

“We’ve had a lot of support,” said Orlando, who has been baking bread for 15 years and operated The Bakery on Mason for five years.

But she wasn’t feeling well and got a diagnosis that conflicted with her vocation.

Gluten, a protein found in grains and breads, was triggering an autoimmune disorder.

“Once I stopped eating gluten items, I felt a lot better,” she said.

She found she could not be around flour, even if she wasn’t eating it.

It prompted her to close the business.

On The Bakery on Mason’s Facebook page, she wrote, “We’ve loved the long lines, the chats, and the happy — old and new — faces.”

Orlando hopes someone comes in and takes over the business in the future. She said there has been some interest.

In the meantime, she will feel better being away from gluten products. And she understands the irony of the heralded bread maker who could not be around the ingredients needed to make it.

Chicken houses

County code in their decision to grant the variances that allow the operation to reopen.

"I wish I could pick the chicken houses up and move them," said the farm's manager, Mark McCready, addressing the board's chair. "Ma'am, I can't move them."

Accomack County allows poultry operations by-right in its agricultural zoning district, where Ung's farm is located.

However, because her poultry houses opened before current county guidelines were established, they do not follow some of Accomack's ordinances.

That was not an issue until Tyson Foods canceled its contracts with poultry growers during the pandemic and the Gaskins Road operation shut down, McCready said.

"This farm did not get shut down due to performance or poor management," he said.

"The farm was actually shut down by Tyson. In the meantime, we still have a mortgage to pay. We still have taxes to pay ... It's an extreme hardship," he said.

Ung is seeking to reopen the poultry houses to generate income but, because the operation has been inactive for over two years, it must follow Accomack's poultry ordinance or receive approval from the board of zoning appeals for exceptions to those rules.

Exceptions granted during Wednesday's board meeting include a variance of 190 feet from the county's 200-foot setback requirement from property lines — meaning one manure shed is 10 feet from a neighboring property.

The board granted another request for a variance of 41 feet from Accomack's setback requirement from roads, which is 125 feet from the center of state- or county-maintained roads.

The 60-acre site in Savageville includes six poultry houses, each able to hold around 23,000 birds, McCready said.

It is in an historically Black neighborhood and several community members spoke out against reopening the chicken houses.

"I felt like a prisoner in my own home because of the stench, and it's a quality of life issue," said Alvin Bailey, who lives nearby on Gaskins Road.

"I am not looking forward to that stench again if those houses are re-opened," he said.

Janet Conquest Powell agreed: "It is a detriment to our homes and we adamantly oppose it."

Other concerns included the impact of runoff from the poultry facility on surrounding Leatherbury and Onancock creeks; human health concerns due to particulate matter released from the chicken houses; impacts to nearby property values; and negative effects on tourism and nearby businesses.

Several speakers noted a 2015 manure shed fire on the property, which smoldered for several weeks.

"There is a lot of opposition. That's a concern of mine," said board member Gracie Milbourne before the board ultimately gave the green light for the poultry operation to start the process of re-opening.

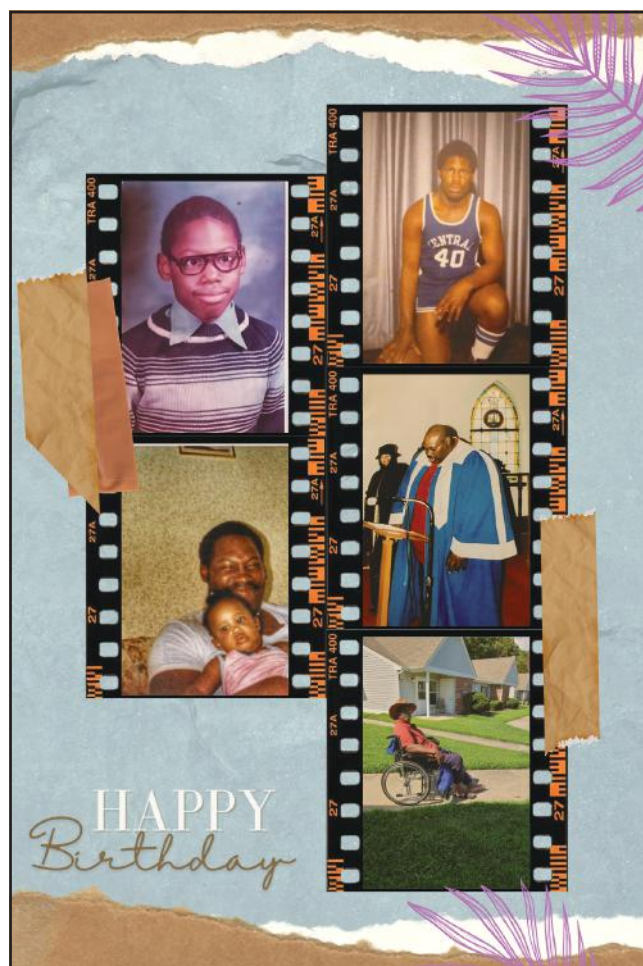

"I just have some issues with the neighbors not feeling like they've been heard," said board member Gary Miller.

"It just seems like it's a major concern in that neighborhood," he said.

Before resuming operations, Ung must obtain permits required by Virginia and the state's Department of Environmental Quality, Water Control Board, and Department of Conservation and Recreation.

She must also submit a landscaping plan including a vegetative buffer that visually screens the poultry operation from Gaskins Road, according to Accomack County code.

There are no plans to add more chicken houses to the property, McCready said after the board meeting. According to Accomack County code, Ung could add six more poultry houses to the property.

Some Things Bear Repeating . . .

The Onancock Residents Group is made up of taxpayers in the Town of Onancock who love living here and want to see our town thrive. When an issue arises whose details have not been transparently presented, in this case the construction of a large Performance Pavilion on town property by the Friends of Onancock School, we feel compelled to speak out to be sure all residents of the town are aware of what is being proposed, how it will be used, and it's potential cost to taxpayers.

We are reprinting the following Letter to the Editor published in the August 18th edition of The Eastern Shore Post with permission from the author because we believe it lifts the veil on this project and helps make all of our neighbors aware of what is being planned and, how to be heard.

To the Editor,

The Historic Onancock School is first and foremost an art center that rents studio space for a variety of artists working in various art forms. So when the Friends of Onancock School (FOS) announced their intention to build a performance pavilion on the school property people naturally envisioned a concert shell showcasing local musicians and their art. This is clearly not the case as they revealed in a neighborhood meeting last December, where they promoted the project as a means of generating much needed money for repairs and improvements to the school building. In fact, this is a commercial project and it's about money, not art.

Onancock Mayor Fletcher Fosque and a majority of the Town Council seem to be determined to see this facility built, likely seeing it as a solution to the millions of dollars needed for repairs to the school, which the town owns, and a way to get this "monkey" off their backs.

Putting aside the issue of whether the FOS has the funds in hand to build the pavilion (they say they do, but in their notes from an October meeting speak of the need to raise between $650 and $750,000 for the project) the real financial questions arise from their projections for profit from the events held at the facility.

Their five-year operating plan provides for 8 events in year one, 10 in year two, and 20 in years three, four, and five. Their financial projections are based on ticket prices averaging over $42 in the first year and topping $54 in the fifth year and audience sizes ranging from 300 to 600 people per performance. These are steep prices for a chance to sit on a blanket or the lawn chair you bring with you, just a few yards from a salt marsh, where lots of our notorious Eastern Shore mosquitos breed.

Ticketmaster's 2014 Live Event Attendee Study found that almost 80% of concertgoers were between the ages of 18 to 54. In Accomack County (population 33,388 in 2021) around 15,000 people fall into that age demographic. With a median income of just $50,600 at least half of this group are living from paycheck to paycheck, and a $40+ ticket is simply out of reach. With this in mind, the HOS projections call for selling 8800 tickets per year in years three and four and 10,500 tickets in year five. Assuming the half of residents potentially have the discretionary income, the FOS expects to sell at least one ticket to every one of them.

And don't expect the tourists to save the day. Cape Charles has a lively summer population. Chincoteague has a lively summer population. Onancock? Not so much. It is common sense that the tourists will attend the free concerts in these towns during the summer months, and go back home after Labor Day.

If the Mayor and Town Council would take off their rose-colored glasses they would see this project for what it is; a boondoggle that will raise no funds for the school, and ultimately end up costing the taxpayers of Onancock. Those of us who live in the confines of the Town of Onancock pay a hefty premium in the form of additional real estate and personal property taxes. Is it too much to ask for our elected officials to protect their constituents from pie-in-the-sky projects that will ultimately end up as another millstone around the Town's neck? Remember the sewage plant?

Points to Ponder:

- The Major and Town Council approved this construction without seeing any plans.
- The foundation was built before the public knew about the project.
- No professional Market Analysis has been done to validate the operating projections
- Beginning in the third year events are to be held every weekend from May into October
- The FOS expect people to pay high ticket prices when virtually all other music on the shore is free.
- If each car coming into town for these events carries three passengers, between 100 and 200 cars will need to find parking. Will this clog our side streets and impede ambulance and fire services?
- Event attendees will have to bring blankets or lawn chairs. No permanent seating is planned. Mosquito repellent is a must!
- If the FOS plan fails we, the taxpayers of Onancock, will own the building and be on the hook for ongoing maintenance and expenses.
